For years the Comanche Garden Club has been wanting a home of its own. At long last this ambition is about to be realized. The Garden Club recently purchased one of the Comanche County Veterans Vocational School buildings and this has been moved on to a lot recently donated to the club by Mrs. Walter Durham Sr.

The location of the new Garden Club Center is just off West Wright Avenue, up near the City Reservoir, and just back of the Ruby Barton and Lillian Durham home. The City has opened a new street in front of the club house and improvements on the grounds and building already are underway.

The Garden Club Center offers great possibilities for beauty and efficiency, but will require much work, planning and money, but these women are just the ones who can put the project over in a big way.

A committee from the Garden Club completed a two day drive for donations for the Center last week and met with remarkable success and cooperation from the public with most everyone wanting to help in this worthy cause.

The committee, however, was not able to see everybody on the first drive and a supplementary drive may be made soon.

In the meantime, those who wish to donate may do so by handing their contribution to any Garden Club member. The finance committee is composed of Mesdames W. M. Durham, Sr., general chairman; Robert Eaton, club president; A. P. Cox, Joe Tupin, Tom Dudley, E. H. Denney, Darrell Smith, Vasco Lee, J. Wilkerson, and John H. Reese.

The Comanche Study Club, the town's oldest woman's club, years ago bought and paid for a lot, but never built a club house of their own on it.

It is the beautiful lot near the J. B. Layne Elementary School on which the Girl Scout building was erected some 20 years ago.

The Girl Scouts were very active in Comanche at the time and took great pride in their building, which was and is one of the most beautiful and useful in this section.

When the Girl Scouts became inactive in Comanche, the building was turned over to the newly organized Comp Fire Girls for their use.

There is still plenty of room on the lot for both the Camp Fire building and another building for the Study Club, should they ever decide to build a home for their own use.

Since cancer is taking more lives in the United States today than any other known disease, April has been designated as the month in which all should concentrate on fighting this dreaded disease.

The American Cancer Society has added to their slogan, "Fight Cancer with a Check and a Checkup." This is a new and meaningful phrase, which translated into common language means if we are to cure more people of cancer, we must give more of our money to the American Cancer Society, the leaders of which know just where to place your money so that it will do the most good.

Twenty-five years ago there were in the United States only 160,000 people alive cured of cancer. Today there are at least 1,100,000 alive and cured of cancer, and the figure is going up every year.

Twenty-five years ago it was said that one out of seven people were cured of cancer. Today, it is one out of three; and tomorrow, if everyone had an annual checkup, it would be one out of two.

Today some 87,000 Americans die needlessly of cancer each year. They are lost because they do not receive early diagnosis and prompt treatment.

The American Cancer Society says that the possibility of preventing deaths from cancer are greater than for any other chronic disease, and that more can be done against cancer than against any other disease.

That is why the Cancer Society developed the theme, "To cure more, give more."

This requires a big and costly educational effort. Statistics show that about 40 per cent of the population of the United States do not know cancer's seven danger signals, signals that man the difference between life and death.

Also the American Cancer Society wants to step up its research program. Just recently a drug has been found which is most effective against one very rare type of cancer that heretofore always proved fatal.

The Society has great hope that in the next few years much can be achieved in the field of IMMUNOLOGY—the prevention of cancer through vaccination.

Until research supplies the answer, we cannot hope to save more than one out of two of those who develop cancer.

The President of the United States at a Conference on Heart and Cancer Disease, said, "This is no time to sit still on research. A good way to advance research is to heed the Society's 1962 theme, 'To cure more, give more money to the Cancer Fund.'"

Webster's Unabridged Dictionary of 1960 says that any sore that will not heal, eventually will become a cancer. Pain usually is not an early symptom of cancer, but any unusual lump, abnormal bleeding, chronic indigestion and loss of weight not caused by dieting, is a danger signal of a cancer and the patient should see a doctor at once.

No medicine yet has been discovered that will cure a cancer. The best known treatments today are by x-ray, radium, or surgery.

A cancer is a malignant growth which spreads into surrounding tissue and travels through the lymph and blood into surrounding tissues.

Certain irritations and chronic inflammation are known to influence cancerous growths.

about cancer under the heading of "Countdown For Cancer" was sent to The Chief by American Cancer Society:

An increasing number of people throughout the country have become living proof that the countdown for cancer is on.

In 1937, only one cancer patient in seven was saved. A few years ago, it was one in four. Today, it is one in three. It could be one in two. This is the countdown that saves lives.

Today there are more than one million men, women and children ren saved from cancer, and there is hope that even more substantial gains will be made soon.

There is no Cape Canaveral for the cancer countdown. Instead, there are thousands of scientists in hundreds of laboratories, hospitals, medical schools searching for the final solution to the cancer problem.

Their task is just as challenging as placing a man on the moon. What causes cancer? Is cancer a virus? Why do some people get it and not others? From these questions will come the answers that will lead to cancer's ultimate conquest and to the saving of millions of lives.

The current Crusade of the American Cancer Society is the opportunity for all of us to help speed up this countdown. Generous contributions will assure the Society that every promising research project can be supported.

The Crusade also reminds us to take personal protection against cancer. Annual health checkups are the best immediate assurance that more lives will be saved from cancer.

The talk about cancer is right-fully filled with optimism. The countdown is on. Through our contributions, all of us can have the satisfaction of being an active part of it.

Eastland County voters said "No" to the proposed consolidation of 6 of their eight independent school districts into one huge district, at an election held recently to decide that issue.

In all, there were 3,542 votes cast with only 487 persons indicating that they want the consolidation of the schools of Ranger, Eastland, Olden, Gorman, Carbon, and Desdemona.

Marking their ballots against the proposed consolidation were 3,055 voters in the six districts.

Rising Star and Cisco refused to consider allowing a vote on whether or not their schools should enter into the consolidation.

The vote in the consolidation election was as follows: Ranger 802 against and 106 for; Eastland 762 against and 260 for; Olden 195 against and 41 for; Carbon 328 against and 28 for; Gorman 828 against and 44 for; Desdemona 140 against and 12 for.

The plan was to let each district keep its elementary school and to locate the consolidated school out in the wide open space near Lake Leon which furnishes water for Cisco, Eastland and Ranger.

Billy Hammond says that you do not have to go to college to learn right from wrong. God gave us a Bible that lays down the rules in plain language of what is right and what is wrong.

You don't have to go to college to understand most of economic facts. You know if a person, a city, a state or a nation spends annually more than it takes in, sooner or later it will go into bankruptcy.

All of us know that we often can get something for nothing. There must be a source of supply.

Two and two still makes four. You cannot stretch it. The farmer knows that all the wheat, means to do out bread in the future, must be saved for planting reserved for future needs.

We don't often carry on in this department, but in going to make an exception this one, as it was written a 12-year-old boy, Dennis Smith, who has a common

Vance Harris Dies In Lubbock

Vance Worth Harris, 53, resident of Sundown, and a long time resident of Comanche County, passed away Wednesday, March 28, in a Lubbock hospital. Preliminary services for Mr. Harris were held at 10 a.m. Friday, March 30, at the First Baptist Church in Sundown, with the pastor, Rev. Gaston Green, officiating. Final rites were conducted at 3 p.m. Saturday, March 31 in the Comanche Funeral Home Chapel, with Rev. S. J. Isham and Rev. Henry M. Chambers officiating.

Interment was in the Board Church Cemetery, Comanche County.

Pallbearers were Johnny Harris, Delbert McNutt, Jake Mast, Albert Clement, Arlie Bowman, and Billy Harris.

Mr. Harris, son of Oscar Harris of Comanche and the late Mrs. Olive (Davis) Harris, was born February 11, 1909 in Eastland County. He was worked for an oil company for 26 years, and before moving to Sundown eight years ago, had lived in Monahans and Levelland.

He was converted early in life and was a member of the First Baptist Church in Sundown, and had served as chairman of the board of deacons the past year. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, Lions Club, and Quarterback Club in Sundown.

Expulsion Of The Negroes From County In 1886 Told

THE EXPULSION OF THE NEGROES FROM COMANCHE COUNTY IN 1886 WAS NOT APPROVED BY MANY PEOPLE OF COMANCHE, SAYS G. A. BEAMAN, FOUNDER OF THE CHIEF.

FROM THE COMANCHE CHIEF, APRIL, 1925

The expulsion of the Negroes from Comanche County in 1886 was not approved by most people of Comanche, despite two horrible crimes that led up to their expulsion.

One of these crimes was the murder of two small sons, Joe and Fleete, of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Nabers; a colored girl who worked in the Nabers home, and the burning of the Nabers home, which also was used as a hotel.

Uncle Jack and Aunt Lucy Nabers, as they were affectionally called, had a 505-year-old colored man by the name of Mose employed about the house. He was a peaceful, well behaved man and was a favorite of all who knew him. Uncle Mose's wife had died and he wanted to marry a 12 year old servant girl, who worked in the hotel. Aunt Lucy advised her not to marry him. This seemed to be the cause of the crime.

One night just before daylight, Mose killed the girl and the two small sons, Joe and Fleete, and then set the house on fire, cut the well rope, and then fled from the house into the timber east of town.

The fire soon attracted a crowd and a searching party for Uncle Mose was soon in pursuit. Mose was discovered in a large thicket east of town and was shot and killed by the parties who located him.

Soon another crime was committed in the county. Dick Stephens who lived in Comanche County about half way between Comanche and De Leon had a Negro boy about 18 years old employed on his farm.

One day Dick went to Comanche on business and that evening when he returned home he found his wife killed and the boy gone. The alarm was given and the neighbors hastily assembled and a search started for the boy got underway.

Sheriff Cunningham and a number of men from Comanche came over to join in the search but he was not found until the next day which was Sunday.

On Sunday evening, a young man by the name of George Hamilton, found the Negro weary, hungry, and footsore in a thicket on Armstrong Creek in Erath County, nine miles northeast of De Leon. He was unarmed, but carried a heavy walking stick.

The Negro confessed his crime and said that he had no reason for killing Mrs. Stephens, as she always had been kind to him.

He was told that he was going to be hanged and asked him if he had anything to say. He said that if there was a preacher he would like to have him offer a prayer, but no one offered the prayer.

The boy, whose name was Tom, then had a rope placed around his neck and he was hanged to the limb of the tree until he was dead.

On Monday night, after the hanging, bands of armed men paraded the streets of Comanche and went down into "Negro town" in the south part of the city and ordered the Negroes to leave within ten days.

In the next issue of The Chief, the paper had this to say about ordering the Negroes to leave Comanche:

"The Negroes of Comanche, with one or two exceptions, are inoffensive, harmless people, and are no more responsible for the crime last Saturday than are the white people of this community."

"Besides Comanche is abundantly able to take care of herself and her people and we have not asked a mob from an section of the county to come in here and run off our harmless colored people."

"Every citizen, white or black, rich or poor, who live under the American flag and obey the laws is entitled to the protection of the government, and if these hot headed men only knew that what they commence persecuting the Negroes, they are liable to bring the United States troops here and have the whole county under marshal law. The colored people have the same rights under the law that we have; and it would be a very poor law that did not give every man a equal right."

"This is the sunny land of the free, and some of the very men who would fight for the law of freedom and equal rights, are now trying to trample those laws under the iron heel of tyranny."

"This is a time when cool, clear heads and steady nerves are needed at the pilot wheel."

Reason, not force, should be employed to avoid the breakers.

"A mass meeting of protest against the efforts to drive our law-abiding colored people out of Comanche was held at the courthouse Tuesday and the following men were appointed to draw up an appropriate resolution:

W. R. Bratton, G. A. Beaman, W. B. Cunningham, J. T. Tunnell, N. R. Lindsey, Uncle Jack Nabers, with L. B. Russell as secretary, and C. W. Carnes as chairman.

The following resolutions were drawn up and passed:

"The late events in our county, in our judgment, call for an expression of sentiment from those who value social order and the sanctity of the law."

"We recognize the great provocation of the recent outbreak of popular feeling and the temporary disregard of the law, yet we have an abiding confidence in the good sense and patriotism of the people of Comanche County."

"Therefore, be it resolved that we the people of Comanche County in mass meeting assembled, regard the law and its enforcement as the shield of personal liberty and the only security of life and property, and so regarding it, we pledge our all to uphold the sanctity of the same."

"We therefore regard the demonstration in the town of Comanche on last night, in ordering the Negro population out of the county, as uncalled for, wrong, and lawless in itself, and we appeal to the good sense of those engaged therein, and to their better judgment in cooler moments, to desist from their threatened violence."

"We the law abiding citizens of Comanche, pledge ourselves to assist and uphold Sheriff Cunningham in all his efforts to maintain law and order, uphold the law, and to protect law abiding citizens and the enjoyments of all their legal rights."

"Signed by: R. D. Shropshire, N. R. Lindsey, J. A. Meadows, J. A. Tannehill, L. H. Brewer, E. L. Shropshire, L. B. Russell, W. B. Cunningham, Milam Davis, J. J. Franklin, C. W. Carnes, C. W. Daniel, J. E. Chilton, F. Paines, J. B. Hamilton, B. W. Switzer."

"W. L. Sartwell, T. L. Hutchison, C. L. Wright, Sam M. Vernon, J. C. Milner, C. A. Chilton, J. O. Tannehill, D. D. Hutchison, J. W. Green, J. T. Tunnell, W. B. Bratton, Geo. W. Jones, J. A. Dickie, S. F. Todd, J. W. Smith, A. C. Drummonds, Uncle Jack Nabers."

"W. O. Hamilton, P. McCullough, W. R. Bratton, A. T. Richie, S. A. Joseph, F. E. Wilson, J. W. Bryan, J. G. Hamilton, J. P. Hutchison, M. L. Brodie, Jno. Sullivan, T. Breedlove, W. G. McDonald, G. R. Hart, J. A. Holman, W. W. Lacy, and J. E. Tunnell."

Mrs. John Connally Honored With Coffee Here Monday

Mrs. John Connally attended women's receptions arranged by Connally for Governor supporters in six West Central Texas cities this week prior to going to Austin for Connally Homecoming Day Friday.

Her schedule included coffees and teas Monday in Stephenville and Comanche; Tuesday, Brownwood and Coleman; Wednesday noon, San Marcos.

Meets Comancheans

Mrs. Connally met more than one hundred Comanche County women Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Bill Wilkerson, 800 N. Lane St. Mrs. Wilkerson and a group of Comanche women arranged an informal coffee to get acquainted with the gubernatorial candidate's wife, and a Connally For Governor theme predominated.

The class was named the Myrtle Martin Sunday School Class for Exceptional Children. Miss Myrtle Martin was for many years a Sunday School teacher in the Presbyterian Church and a public school teacher, who devoted her life to helping others, especially the young and handicapped.

This is an interdenominational Sunday School group, and several churches and individuals have cooperated to make this class possible. The Presbyterian Church has furnished a room, some equipment, and literature. The Baptist Church supplied some chairs for this group.

Some of the children at the Vacation Bible School of the Methodist Church made cushions for the chairs, toys, scrapbooks, and pictures. They also bought an air conditioner, and brought books and a record player. Frank McCullough made a table for this group. Monetary contributions have been given by friends and relatives.

The class meets from 9:15 to 10 o'clock each Sunday morning.

Don't forget to vote in the school trustee elections next Saturday, April 7. You can serve your community best by taking part in the school elections at Comanche, De Leon, Gustine and Sidney.

In each school district there will be only one voting box, although each of the surviving school districts are now made up of what were once several school districts.

We hope that the people in the rural areas will come in and vote. It is as much their school district a sit is of those of us who live in town.

Five different communities have candidates in the Comanche Independent School District. We hope that there is a big vote cast.

The first Democratic primary election is now just a month off—Saturday, May 5.

There are six candidates for Governor of Texas, all of whom are making their first race for that office with the exception of Governor Price Daniel, who is seeking his fourth term.

No man, so far, has ever been elected four times as governor of Texas, but no man had been elected President of the United States for more than two terms until Franklin D. Roosevelt came along, and he was elected for four terms—in 1932, 1936, 1940 and 1944. Now a law prohibits a person from serving more than two successive terms as President.

We have not seen the results of any straw votes taken recently in the Governor's race, but the one we last saw more than a month ago had Daniel first, John Connally second, and Don Yarborough (no relation to the U.S. Senator) third.

John Connally was practically unknown politically until he was appointed Secretary of the Navy by President Kennedy. He was born in Floresville, Wilson County, near San Antonio, and later moved to Fort Worth. Connally is a graduate of the University of Texas and a former president of the student body.

I think I am correct in stating that Price Daniel has never been defeated for public office. He served in the Legislature, and was Attorney General before he was elected Governor.

The only other man to serve three full terms as Governor of Texas was Allan Shivers, who was elected three times and served six years of his own elective terms and finished out about 16 months of the term of Governor Beauford Jester who died in office while Shivers was lieutenant governor.

In all, Shivers served as governor from July 11, 1949 until January 1, 1957.

In 1952, the year when Eisenhower was first elected President of the United States, Shivers received both the Democratic and the Republican nominations for Governor in the General Election and received 1,355,547 votes on the Democratic ticket and 468,513 on the Republican ticket, being almost unanimously elected, only a few other individuals.

Daniel was first elected Governor of Texas in 1956. In the first primary he led over Ralph Yarborough, with a vote of 628,914 to 463,411. There were three other candidates in the first primary.

In the run-off Daniel received 698,001 votes to 694,830 for Ralph Yarborough.

In 1958 Daniel won in the first primary without the necessity of a run-off. The vote was Daniel 797,107; Henry Gonzales 246,969; W. Lee O'Daniel 238,767; and Joe A. Irvin 33,643.

In the 1960 Democratic primary Daniel received 908,993 and Jack Cox got 619,834.

Daniel received 1,627,698 votes in the 1960 General Election to 609,808 for William M. Stegler, his Republican opponent.

Other candidates for Governor in the May 5 Democratic Primary are: Marshall Formby of Plainview, Hale County, a former of the State Highway Commission.

General Edwin A. Walker of Kerr County, who resigned from the Army, and this is his first experience in politics.

Attorney General Will Wilson, of Dallas County, an experienced politician who was never defeated before he entered the special U.S. Senate election last fall.

Don Yarborough of Houston, Harris County, is the sixth and last candidate on the list released by the State Executive Committee, but he is not likely to be last when the votes come in.

Don Yarborough is the youngest man in the Governor's race and is endorsed by a major portion of the labor voters and since he lives in Texas' biggest city, he may surprise some of the other candidates if his home folks back him up. He says he will do the same things for Texas that President Kennedy is doing for the United States.

There are five candidates for Lieutenant Governor in the May 5 Democratic primary, and the place is wide open since former Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey has been appointed to a position on the Railroad Commission. Ramsey has one opponent, Keith Wheatley.

The best known candidate for Lieutenant Governor to Comanche County people is our present State Senator Crawford Martin of Hillsboro.

James A. Turman, former Speaker of the House of Representatives, is another well known candidate for that office.

Another candidate for Lieutenant Governor is Jarrard Secrest of Temple, well known by the Methodists in Comanche as a noted lay leader and speaker.

State Senator Preston Smith of Lubbock and State Senator Bob Baker of Houston are the two other candidates for Lieutenant Governor.

There are six candidates in the wide open race for Attorney General, since Incumbent Will Wilson is running for governor. Attorney General candidates include former Speaker of the House Waggoner Carr, W. T. McDonald, Tom James, Bob Looney, Les Procter, and Tom Reavley.

There are seven candidates for Congressman-At-Large, none of whom are very well known over the state. They are Woodrow Wilson Bean, Manley Head, Warren G. Moore, Joe Pool, Charles H. Stevenson, Jr., Russell T. Van Keuren, and Phil Willis.

In addition to the various candidates to be voted on in the May 5 primary, the State Democratic Executive Committee submitted the following three propositions. The proposals are not binding, and would require Constitutional Amendment procedure later to become effective. They are:

Proposition No. 1: For or

Proctor Cemetery Working Postponed

Due to recent dry weather the annual Proctor Cemetery working, scheduled for next Tuesday, April 10, has been postponed until the second Tuesday in May. According to Walter Dixon, president of the Proctor Cemetery Association, and Bernie Howell, treasurer, the cemetery has not grown enough to justify an all day working at this time.

Big Time Had By All At Proctor

A near capacity crowd gathered at the huge Proctor Community Center Tuesday night for a rousing good time with more pies and cakes to eat than "Carter had oats."

The affair was sponsored by the Proctor Community Club.

The pie auction sale was conducted by that master of that arts, Bob Carpenter, of Comanche. Bob Carpenter, of Comanche, the buyers responded to the tune of $109.74 until the Proctor Community Club president, Jim Roberts, stopped the sale before the pocketbooks became empty.

It was a hilarious occasion interspersed with speeches, music, singing and laughter, climaxed by some solo gigs which brought rounds of applause, matched only by the singing and playing by the national song hit writer of 1952, an engineer on the Proctor Dam.

Musicians came to Proctor from all parts of Comanche County, and some from Dublin and Stephenville. Among those whose names we were successful in obtaining were Mr. and Mrs. Tate Ford of Stephenville, Bill mon, John Lee, Merle Davis, Royce Theibaud, Dale Cox, Jack Johnson and about a half dozen Jaycees from Dublin.

The candidate speaking, though few in number, added to the enjoyment of the meeting, and included talks by County Judge Dwight Brightman, County Attorney C. C. Hampton, D. F. Caraway, candidate for County Judge, and Donald Ray Spivey, candidate for Justice of Peace, Precinct No. 1.

Jim Roberts was master of ceremonies during the speaking. He is a candidate for school trustee in the Comanche Independent School District, and urged all voters in the district to come out and vote in the election to be held Saturday at the City Hall in Comanche.

Much credit for the success of the meeting must go to the Proctor women who had everything so carefully arranged for the occasion; and for those delicious pies and cakes.

Mrs. J. W. Couch Found Dead From Natural Causes

Mrs. J. W. Couch, 79, Rt. 1, Comanche, was found dead in her home, a mile east of the Comanche square, about 10 a.m. Thursday, April 5. Mrs. N. A. Berrey, a neighbor, discovered Mrs. Couch's body.

Mrs. Couch was last seen by neighbors Tuesday, but she had answered a telephone call Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Couch's body was found in a sitting position in her rocking chair. She had been in poor health and recently had been under the care of a physician.

County Attorney C. C. Hampton, Justice of Peace O. A. Brazel and County Health Officer W. D. Blackwood were called to the Couch home. No inquest was held after Dr. Blackwood made an examination, and declared Mrs. Couch's death was due to natural causes.

Mrs. Couch's husband, J. W. Couch, died at the family home here last February 11.

Oak Lawn Funeral Home, Comanche, will announce funeral arrangements for Mrs. Couch, according to relatives who said burial likely will be in San Angelo.
